The national board of farmers organizations issued the following statement to The Constitution to night:

Agriculture is suffering more acutely through inadequate financing and credit facilities than any other great basic industry, due probably to the fact that manufacturers, railroad management and organized middlemen have long maintained more direct and closer relationship with bankers. These groups not only have well-financed state and national associations, nearly all of them in turn merged nearly all of them in turn merged into the powerful Vational Manufacturers' association, the chamber of commerce of the United States, and kindred organizations, but the very nature of their occupations brings them into more or less daily contact with the banking fraternity, whom they meet not only in a business way, but in social intercourse at the clubs and golf links, where conditions are perhaps most favorable of all for the effect g of satisfactory business unders undings. "The federal reserve board, which includes the secretary of the treasury, has by law acquired dominating importance in finance, and what is true of the facilities for approach and understanding with the money lenders on the part of borrowers other than farmers, applies with almost equal force here in Washington, where traditions and polies have been such as to deny agriculture representation in the appointment of cabinet officers, governmental boards and commissions, and where one will find a certain impatience exhibited when agriculture, through its organized representatives, endeavors in like manner to secure credits or the extension of credit for the grain, live stock and cotton producers or other sections of agriculture.

Wain Effects of Cotton Growers.

"Recently, delegates of cotton rowers and of live stock producers met with the federal reserve board to impress these financial arbiters that their industries were actually declining, and that to safeguard the interests of producer and consumer alike, it was necessary for the banks to give sufficient credit and credit extension.

"These representatives received soft answers, but few if any results. Governor Harding, of the federal reserve board, while stating that agriculture is the one most important industry and, therefore, must be properly financed, declared that government reports indicated that government reports indicated that the harvest would be boutneous. It is the same old story, that because farmers in the past have always been able to produce sufficiently to feed the people that, therefore, they will be able to 'muddle through' some how. He and his associates were not impressed with the statements made by the actual producers, preferring, apparently, to accept the interpretations as to businss conditions which reach Washington thought 'usual channels." President Wilson's telegram of October 5 said the statement which he had attributed to the president "was made upon the floor of the senate on February 2, 1920, by Senator Reed, and so far as I have learned has never been denied until now. In his speech of February 2, Senator Reed quoted from a copyrighted syndicated article by Frank H. Text of Wilson's Address.

The text of President Wilson's address, as supplied to the white house by Mr. Carlson, follows:

"Mr. President, I should be very sorry to see this meeting adjourn with permanent impressions, such as it is possble have been created, by some of the remarks that our friends have made. I should be very sorry to have the impression lodged in your minds that the great powers desire to assume or play any aribtrary role in these great maters, or assume, because of any pride of authority, to exercise an undue infuence in these matters, and therefore, I want to call your attention to one aspect of these question which has not been dwelt upon.

"We are trying to make a peaceful settlement, that is to say, to eliminate those elemetns of disturbance, so far as possible, which may interfere with the peace of the world, and we are trying to make an equitable distribution of territories according to the race, the ethnographical character of the people inhabiting those territories.

"And back of that lies this fundamentally important fact that when the decisions are made, the aliled and associated powers guarantee to maintain them. It is perfectly evident, upon a moment's refletion, that the chief-burden of the war fell upon the greater powers, and if it is and not been for their action, their military action, we would not be here to settle these questions. And, therefore, we must not close our eyes to the fact that in the last analysis, the military and naval strength of the great powers will be the final guarantee of the peace of the world.

"In those circumstances, is it unreasonable and unjust that, not as dictators, but as friends, the great powers should say to their associates: "We cannot afford to guarantee territorial settlements which we do not believe to be right, and we can agree to leave elements of disturbance unremoved which we believe will disturb the peace of the world?

"Take the rights of minorities. Nothing, I ven meted out to minorities. And, there-fore, if the great powers are to guarantee the peace of the world in any sense, it is unjust that they should be satisfied that the proper and necessary guarantees have been given?

To Serbia and Rumania.

"I beg our friends from Rumania and from Serbia to remember that while Rumania and Serbia are ancient sovereignties, the settlements of this conference are greatly adding to their territories. You cannot, in one part of our transactions, treat Serbia alone, and in all of the other parts, treat the kingdom of the Serbs, the Croats and the Slovenes as a different entity, for they Brewing Schlitz -An Exact Science treat Serbia alone, and in all of the other parts, treat the kingdom of the Serbs, the Croats and the Slovenes as a different entity, for they are seeking the recognition of this conference as a single entity, and if this conference is going to recognize these various powers as new sovereignties within definite territories, the chief guarantors are entitled to be satisfied that the territorial settlements are of a character to insure the peace of the world.

"It is not, therefore, the interventions to those who would interfere but the action of those who would help. I beg that our friends will take that view of it, because I see no escape from that viw of it. "How can a power like the United States—for I can speak for no other aftr signing this treaty, if it contains elements which they do not believe will be permanent, go 3,000 miles away across the sea and report to its people that it has made a settlement of the peace of the world? It cannot do so. And yet, there underyies all of these transactions the expectation on the part, for example, of Rumania, and of Czecho-Slovakia and of Serbia, that if any covenants of this stttlement are not observed, the United States will send her armies and her navies to see that they are observed.

"In those circumstances, is it unreasonable that the United States and her navies to see that they are observed.

"In those circumstances, is it unreasonable that the United States should insist upon being satisfied that the settlements are correct? Observe, Mr. Bratiano—and I speak of his suggestions with the utmost respect—suggested that we could not, so to say, invade the sovereignty of Rumania, and ancient sovereignty, and make certain prescriptions with regard to the rights of minorities. But I beg him to observe that he is overlooking the fact that he is asking the sanction of the allied and associated powers for great additions of territory which come to Rumania by the common victory of arms, and that, therefore, we are entitled to say: 'If we agree to these additions of territory, we have the right to insist upon certain guarantees ofpeace.'

Common Agreement Sought.

"I beg my friend, Mr. Kramer, and my friend, Mr. Trumble, and my friend, Mr. Trumble, and my friend, Mr. Bratiano, to believe that if we should feel that it is best to leave the words which they have wished to omit, in the treaty, it is not because we want to insist upon unreasonable conditions, but that we want the treaty to accord to us the right of judgment as to whether those are the things which we can aford to guarantee.

"Thereefore, the impressions with which we should disperse ought to be these, that we are all friends—of course that goes without saying—but, that we must all be associates in a common effort, and there can be no frank and earnest asso-

"Now, if the agreement is a separate agreement among groups of us, that does not meet the object. If SIX ARE INJURED you should adopt the language suggested by the Czecho-Slovarian delegates and the Serbian delegationthe Jugo-Slovak delegation-that it should be left to negotiation between the principal allied and associated powers and their several delegates, that would mean that after this whole conference is adjourned, groups of them would determine what is to be the basis of the peace of the world. It seems to me that that would be a most dangerous idea to entertain, and, therefore, I beg that we may part with a sense, not of interfernce with each other, but of hearty and friendly cooperation upon the only possible basis of guarantee. Where the great force lies there must be the sanction of peace.

"I sometimes wish, in hearing an argument like this, that I were the representative of a small power so that what I said might be robbed of any mistaken significance, but I think you will agre with me that the United States has never shown any temper of aggression anywhere, and it lies in the heart of the pretween the principal allied and asso-

SPENCER CLAIMS

HE IS SUSTAINED.

St. Louis, October 11.—United States Senator Selden P. Spencer, in a formal statement today in his controversy with President Wilson, asserted there was no substantial difference between the report of the president's speech made public today and the official stenographic report from which he quoted.

"It is mere quibbling to attempt to pick out slight verbal differences," the senator said, insisting that the president promised American military aid to Rumania and Serbia should those countries be invaded. The statement, in part, follows:

"The report of Mr. Carlson, which the president now publishes, as to "The report of Mr. Carlson, which the president now publishes, as to what the president said on May 31, 1919, at the eighth plenary session of the peace conference, fully bears out what was said by Mr. Herbert Adams Gibbons and was supported by Frank H. Simonds, and what was written by . . Dr. E. J. Dilion, and what was Supported by Paul D. Cravath, of New York, who was one of the expert advisers for the United States in Paris.

No Difference, Says Spencer.

"I quoted what these gentlemen said and shall continue so to do.

"There is no difference in substance between the report now made public by the president and the official stenographic report from which I quoted. The only difference is that this last report surrounds the clear statement which the president made that an American army and navy would be sent overseas when the occasion arose, by some general remarks which do not in the least conceal the fact of what the president said."

Senator Spencer, in a formal statement tonight, announced he had cabled to Paris for the official stenographic report of President Wilson's address at the peace conference dealing with American military assistance for the Rumanians and Serbs. It will be made public if received, the statement says.

No Family Resemblance.

On cross-examination he admitted that he had told Mrs. Garner that Mary Elizabeth had blue eyes, but said that he had also stated that he could see no family resemblance to the Pittmans. He stated that he visited Mrs. Pittman every day after the baby's birth and saw the same baby with her and that that baby was Louise Madeline.

Mrs. Pittman went on the stand and testified as to the birth of her baby. She stated that she took ether, but despite this she knew everything that went on.

According to Mrs. Pittman, the baby's hair was black and inclined to curl. There was a small scratch on the child's left check under the eye, according to Mrs. Pittman, exactly the same identification mark that Mrs. Garner had described on her baby.

"Were there any other marks of identification?" Mr. Austin asked.

"Yes," she replied, "the next morning when the baby was brought to me I noticed a birthmark on the back of her neck, just where the hair stopped. There were three red splotches."

"Are these marks still visible on Louise Madeline?" was the next question.

Her baby, she said, was born at 9:50 p. m., on May 22, 1919. The baby was brought back to her about 9 o'clock the next morning.

"On the following Saturday," she declared, "Lily brought the babies in the cart. She gave me a baby last. The light wasn't good, but I felt that this baby wasn't mine. I asked Lily to turn up the lights and immediately looked for the marks of identification. They were not there. My baby had worn a fittle gray wrap with blue stripes. This baby had on a different colored wrap. I then asked Mrs. Garner about the color of the wrap of the baby given her.

"It's a gray wrap with blue stripes,' she told me.

"Lily then read the tags and exchanged the bables."

Miss Daisy Stewart, formerly a pupil nurse in training at the Grady, testified that when a baby was born, it was given an oil bath, then put in the bassinet and kept there for twelve hours. The bassinet was tagged immediately, she said, and the head nurse was supposed to tag the baby. The baby, she said, was taken out of the bassinet when it was brought in to its mother. 25 YEARS IN MINISTRY. PASTOR CELEBRATES

Americus. Ga, October 11.—
(Special.)—The congregation of the First Baptist church joined here yesterday with Dr. Carl W. Minor in celebrating the 25th anniversary of his entry into the ministry. The occasion was marked by the presentation to the pastor of a handsome engraved silver loving cup. Dr. Minor has been pastor here since the death, several years ago, of Dr. Lansing Burrows, and is recognized as one of the leading ministers of Americus.

Dr. Minor began his ministry October, 10, 1895, at Valdosta, and since has been pastor at Fitzgerald, Moultrie, Bainbridge and Madison, in addition to giving two years to educational work in an executive capacity at Cox college. He is a native of Milledgeville, and a graduate of Mercer and the Southern Baptist seminary.

PROJECTS FINISHED

Rapid Progress Is Now Being Made Upon a Number of Others.

Two important paving projects have just been finished by the forces of the city construction department and rapid progress is being made on a number of others.

Gonfederate avenue, from Delmar avenue to North Boulevard, was completed Monday, three days after the paving of Everhart street, from Dill to Decker street. Confederate avenue was paved with concrete, while the material on Everhart street was bituminous macadam. By Wednesday night, according to Chief of Construction H. L. Collier, the west side of Jackson street, between Tenth street and Greenwood avenue, will also be finished. This will be the final connecting link of a well-paved driveway from the north side to the Gwant park section.

During the past ten days of ideal weather, said Mr. Collier on Monday, more paving has been laid by the construction department than in any twenty days this year.

Work is now under way by the construction forces on two sections of Simpson street; on the open changle of the Teath street sewer; on the Thirteenth street sanitary sewer, and on the sanitary sewer, and on the sanitary sewer. Soring street, between Harris and Simpson streets.

DRICES are coming down because they must-not because costs have lowered, but because business in this country cannot resume its normal volume and confidence until the adequate buying power of the dollar has been restored.

This is not palatable doctrine to manufacturers who, like ourselves, are actually facing higher costs today than six months ago; but it is the irresistible logic of the situation, and only as it is generally faced and courageously met will the restoration of the economic equilibrium be hastened.

When Hare's Motors undertook the operation of the Companies under its control it was fully expected—as we took much pains at the time to make the public aware that their increased production under the direction of our able engineering staff would eventually reduce costs regardless of the general price trend, but it was not expected that our operations would by this time have reached that stage and, as a matter of fact, they have not.

Both output and sales have been greater during the last four months than at any other equivalent period in the history of the Locomobile and Mercer Companies, but improvements in both products plus increasing costs of labor and materials have more than kept pace with increased production, and except for the obvious duty of collaboration among manufacturers to restore the morale of business, even at considerable temporary sacrifice, there would be no justification whatever for a price reduction at this time.

Nevertheless we are convinced that such procedure is today both sound and constructive-that the greatest ultimate profit is to be earned by taking a present loss—and it is our earnest hope that before the period expires within which, under existing conditions, we can afford to maintain the revised price list, our business will have expanded enough and our costs will have dropped enough to warrant our making the new prices permanent.

If not we shall have no recourse but to revise again—and this time upwards.

Because of the element of uncertainty which obscures this point we are for the present accepting orders for delivery at the new scale until January 1st only.

HOW DOCTORS TREAT COLDS

First Step in Treatment Is a fined Calomel Tablets That

Doctors have found by experience that no medicine for colds and influenza can be depended upon for full effectiveness until the liver is made theroughly active. That is why the first step in the treatment is the new, nausealess calomel tablet called Calotabs, which are free from the sickening and weakening effects of the old style calomel. Doctors also point out the fact that an active liver may go a long way towards preventing influenza and is one of the most important factors in enabling the patient to successfully withstand an attack and ward off pneumonia.

One Caiotab on the tongue at bed time, with a swallow of water—that's all. No salts, no nausea nor the slightest interference with your eating; pleasure or work. Next morning your cold has vanished, your liver is active, your system is purified, and you are feeling fine, with a hearty appetite for breakfast. Druggists sell Calotabs only in original sealed packages, price thirty-five cents. Your money will be cheerfully refunded if you do not find them delightful.—(advt.)

"It seem to me that there should not remain a shadow of a doubt as to my exact position as regarda he proposed league of nations as drafted at Paris and submitted to the senate and as regards the great world sentiment for a better un derstanding among nations to discourage war and generally to advance civilization. Let me re-state my position as explicitly as my power of words permits:

"First: I am unalterably opposed to going into the league of nations as that particular proposition now stands. That proposal is con-temptuous of and potentially destructive of the American constitution. It is not favored by the American people.

I am in favor of a Brisk Purgative With Calo- world association—call it what you will, the name is of slightest contabs, the Purified and Re- | sequence-that will discourage or tend to prevent war, and that will encourage a better understanding Are Nausealess, Safe and among the nations of the earth The old order of things is done with, not only in America, but throughout the world, and the Unit-been and never will be.

"Fifth: It is my purpose, when elected, to take the whole people into my confidence as regards these matters, to seek their advice and, more important, to act consonantly with their advice; and to this end it will be my pleasure as well as my duty to call into conference with me the best minds, the clearest minds, that America affords. I thank God that the time has come when I can ask the advice of American women and especially the mothers of America.

"The substance of these things has been said in some form or other in every address and I say it all definitely now, because I am not always fully reported, and I want America to understand my thought of co-operation as well as the abiding opposition to the league proposal."

Leaving Marion at 11:15 a. m. to-morrow, the Harding train will make a practically continuous run to Chattanooga, where it is to arrive at 6:30 o'clock Wednesday morning. Senator Harding's address there is to be delivered at a night meeting, and during the day he will confer with local party leaders and take an automobile trip to Lookout Mountain. His train leaves the following morning.

as a memebr of the federal reserve board, held not only intelligent and conscientious views of the importance of financing agriculture adequately and without unfair discrimination, but on various occasions he actually secured important results. "The four farmers' organizations, with headquarters at Washington, recently joined in a request to President Wilson that Mr. Moehlenpah be reappointed a memebr of the federal reserve board. Hostile influences, however, the nature of which is yet not fully determined, were able to invade the 'sick room' to defeat the request of the farmer organizations. Another man has been appointed to fill the position."

Farm leaders do not hesitate to say they will be agreeable to a normal loss on their products, provided the consumers are given the benefit by forced deflations to the that while they are being asked to market raw cotton at little more than 50 per cent of actual cost of production, the prices of fabrics to the consumer remains the same.

While this is not entirely true, the deflation on retail prices has not kept pace with the deflations in raw products, and to that extent the argument is sound.

At any rate, the present is the most important producers' conference ever held in America, and there is no doubt that good results will come of it. Secretary Houston will probably not change his recent order, and has said as much today, but that the federal reserve system will come to the aid of farmers to prevent disaster, where speculations do not enter, is practically assured, and the movement will be particularly beneficial in binaging about immediate action to equalize the deflations between raw and finished

The Controlling Factors in Price Making

On September 29th we announced a sweeping reduction in the list prices of our motor cars. At that time we stated that there was no economic justification for such action and it could only mean a very substantial loss to this company.

This loss we very cheerfully accept in the interests of a worthy movement to decrease the excessively high costs of living. But no business can remain permanently on a non-profit basis and, unless commodity prices do actually decline, our experiment will merely prove to be an expensive failure.

In brief, materials and production costs must come down in the very near future or the price of Paige cars must inevitably go up. These two elements-materials and production costs-are the controlling factors in price making and upon them rests the entire manufacturing structure.

We have stated the facts in a blunt, straightforward way. Paige cars are today selling for less than the cost of production and you, of course, realize that such a condition cannot continue indefinitely.

It merely remains to affirm that we shall not, under any circumstances, depart from the high standards of quality which have always characterized our vehicles. Irrespective of cost, the Paige will continue to be a fine mechanical product-worthy of your complete respect and confidence.

An elaborate introduction to an inspiring evening was provided in the spectacular entrance of the military guests, Captain T. W. Bulfin, commander of the company leading his men. They were in full dress uniform, under arms, and bore the national and state flags. The buglers sounded the call to the colors, and the formal salute was given while the great organ sounded the national anthem, and the audience joined in the singing.

The military etnered the building to the specutacular Grand March, from Vedl's "Aida," Mrs. Benjamin Elsas, the leading voice in a large choir, and Mr. Charles A. Sheldon, Jr., at the organ.

Dr. J. Sprole Lyons, chaplain of Joseph Habersham chapter, pronounced the invocation, and the "Battle Hymn of the Republic," was inspiringly sung by Mrs. Elsas.

Mrs. H. B. Scott, ex-regent, recited "The American Creed."

The address of the evening was made by Mrs. Max E. Land, the state regent, whose words reviewed the outstanding glories of the republic, and touched upon the patriotic part of the Daughters of the Revolution in war-times and in peace.

WILSON MAKES GOOD. If ever a man came out second man, Senator Spencer, of Missouri. has been decisively beaten in his recent set-to with President Wil-

In an address delivered in the interests of Senator Harding's candidacy and against the league of nations. Senator Spencer, republican anti-league colleague of Jim Reed, publicly declared that the president had promised Serbia and Rumania that "if any nation ever invaded their territory he would send the American army across the seas to defend their boundary lines."

Immediately the president dispatched a telegram to the senator telling him that his statement was untrue: to which Spencer replied by calling for "the record," saying that the president's statement to which he had referred was made by an official stenographer with the American peace delegation. quotes the passage referred to by Senator Spencer as follows:

"How can a power like the United States, for example-and I can speak for no other-after signing this treaty, if it contains elements which they do not believe will be permanent, go three thousand miles away across the sea and report to ts people that it has made a settlement of the peace of the world? underlies all of these transactions the expectation on the part, for example, of Rumania, and of Czecho-Slovakia, and of Serbia, that if any ovenants of this settlement are send her armies and her navies to see that they are observed."

There is a wide difference be tween a "promise" to "send the American army across the seas to defend their (Rumania's and Serbia's) boundary lines" against invasion, and "the expectation on the part, for example, of Rumania and of Czecho-Slovakia and of Serbia that if any covenants of this settlement are not observed. the United States will send her armies and her navies to see that they are observed!"

And it is that difference which makes Article X. the very heart of the league covenant; it is that precise difference in text as well as in meaning that represents and expresses the very element of world security against future warfare, and that relieves Article X. from any statement or inference that can occasion any well-founded fear or dread.

That very "expectation" of protection by the United States and other powers would of itself constitute a positive guarantee that erritorial and all other rights of Serbia, Rumania and every member nation, great or small, would not be molested; indeed, it is as certain as anything can be certain, that if Serbia and Belgium, for example, had entertained such an "expectation" in 1914-expectation based upon America's signed promise as a member of the league of nations-Germany never would have undertaken to overrun them, and there would have been no world war!

But the point under consideration is that an influential enemy of the president charged the latter rith saying something that put the league of nations covenant in high.

a bad light before voters who do ot understand the document, that the president called him to account, branding him with falsification; that the president, in turn, was dared to produce the record. and that the record now produced proves that the president told the truth when he said Spencer's statement was "false." Now we shall see whether or not the Missouri senator has courage and manhood enough, to say nothing of sufficient respect for the chief executive of the United States, to publicly acknowledge that he was wrong, and tender apology.

TO ENFORCE PROHIBITION Elsewhere upon this page we resent a communication from L. Kyle Baer, of Atlanta, who has "always been against prohibition"that is, before the prohibition principle became a part of the funda mental law of the land-but who says that now he sees wherein he was wrong and "just as strong as fought prohibition, I will work for the ultimate success of its enforcement."

Mr. Baer says that whiskey is being sold today; that violations of the prohibition law in Atlanta are common; that men are being made drink in Atlanta are the common; that men are being the common and another won the sobriquet of "Honest John." All Adams, the policy king, had the reputation and another won the sobriquet of "Honest John." All Adams, the policy king, had the reputation and another won the sobriquet of "Honest John." All of which is true; but that is not the most constructively important part of our correspondent's communication—which has to do with the remedy, with the measures to employ whereby to make prohibition a matter of fact by en-

To speak the plain truth, I must say that I have all lys been against prohibition-that, however, is now matter of the past. I never wa a drinker, but believed that a man a drinker, but believed that a man should have the right to drink if he so desired. I have been shown that whisky is a polson—manufactured with the sole purpose to make men drunk and become beasts—and just as strong as I fought prohibition, I will work for the ultimate success of its enforcement.

There is whisky being sold today-more in Atlanta than anywhere else—there are men being made drunk every day; there is still some suffering caused by drink; there are those who will drink anything to get the rotten, miserable effects of intoxication. But, all things being equal, prohibition will succeed in the end. We have got to make a success of it. Cotton Drop Is Charged to Senate by W. G. McAdoo IN COAL SITUATION

McAdoo, former secretary of the treasury, has written to J. S. Wannamaker, president of the American Cotton association a very comprehensive letter outlining America's present stand in relation to foreign commerce, in answer to a lette. written by Mr. Wannamaker several days ago.

In his letter Mr. McAdon said "While no single cause is responsible for this condition, nevertheless I do feel that the failure of the senate to ratify the peace treaty and to set in motion, so far as this country is concerned, the provisions of that treaty and to make the United States an active participating member of the league of nations, has had a very serious effect upon our export trade, especially on our export trade in cotton and other products of the soil."

"Answer to your letters has been delayed on account of absence and pressure of many engagements. I am deeply concerned about the disquieting conditions you describe and wish I had power to intelligently assist in correcting them. I am under engagement to leave on 11th or 12th inst. for an extended speaking trip under auspices of national committee, which will take me to Pacific coast and back. These arrangements cannot now be raninc coast and back. These arrangements cannot now be changed and force me to give up all my own business and everything else until November 2. While no single cause is responsible for this condition, nevertheless I do feel that the failure of the senate to ratify the peace treaty and to set in motion, so far as this country is concerned, the provisions of that treaty and to make the United States on active perticipat. United States an active participat-ing member of the league of na-tions, has had a very serious ef-fect upon our export trade, espefect upon our export trade, especially on our export trade in cotton and other products of the soil. Revival of industry in Europe, especially in the central powers, which would have opened up large markets for our cotton and other supplies, was dependent upon the prompt ratification of the treaty, and it is undoubtedly true that the demoralization in the exchange situation would have been greatly relieved also by the prompt ratification of the treaty, with a resulting advantage to American coming advantage to American com-

Says Farmer Fights

(Signed) WM. G. McADOO. S. Wannamaker, Esq., President American Cotton Association, St. Matthews, S. C. Says Prohibition Cause Of Our Business Troubles

Editor Constitution: Nobody has Editor Constitution: I recently met a represcentative of a large cotasked the federal reserve board to grant loans to farmers to enable ton export firm, and I asked him them to get 40 cents, or any other what is the real cause for the low fixed price, for cotton. The American Cotton association has urged rope usually takes 6,000,000 or 7,000,the federal reserve banks, through 000 bales of cotton, and that Europe their member banks, to negotiate needs our cotton, but they have no loans to farmers on cotton stored and insured up to 80 per cent of its market value, in order to enable the farmers to use such loans to meet pressing obligations. The cotton to be sold when the mills need the staple for consumption at reasonable prices, the association recommending 40 cents basis, midding.

The feature to enable the principal product is wines. Heretofore, the United States The federal reserve banks have bought from France hundreds of never been asked to back up any millions of dollars' wines, but our national prohibition curing for the growers any specific price for cotton. If the farmers collateral is good, they are entitled to loans, and when the market for cotton is fair and reasonable, and is needed by the mills, the staple will be sold. law has destroyed this trade. France uses normally about 1,500,000 of our cotton, and in the past she has paid us for your southern cotton in wine. You Georgia farmers didn't drink the wine, but the people in This continued effort to stampede this country who did, gave you the this country who did, gave you the cash for the cotton that France used. This condition also applies heads of the several organizations the farmers into seling by theatcash for the cotton that France used. This condition also applies to several other European countries besides France, and my opinion is that the national prohibition law is a large factor in the disorder and disturbance of our foreign trade and financial exchange. I see no immediate prospect of relief. Trade between peoples is simply the exchange or barter of one man's products for the products of anothermoney is used to settle the difference in values. Everything the south buys, it pays for it in cotton. If the people you buy other things from decide not to use your cotton, then you would have to curtail your wants of the products of others. Europe needs and wants your cotton for the several cases of the several cases of the several cases of the civic bodies declared that the advertising campaign will be of inestimable benefit, and it was agreed that the Advertising club should actively undertake the other organizations should lend their support, and in several cases offer committees from their memberships. ATLANTA TO SEND BIG DELEGATION TO FAIR AT ROME

A large number of Atlanta automobiles are expected to make the trip from Atlanta to Rome next Thursday, filled with Atlantan who will attend Atlanta day at the North Georgia fair. John E. Smith president of the Atlanta Automobile association, held a special conference with Mayor Key Monday and announced that he will call a special meeting of the associatio in the effort to build up a delegation representing every Atlanta civic interest.

Major B. M. Bailey, head of army recruiting in Atlanta, announced that he, Captain Bacchus and Capt Gillespie, of Coleman, and Gilbert Welting, of Marlin, all of the state of Texas, have won the Texas contest in judging that starts them are the Southeastern fair. The Texas extension service seems to determine to leave nothing undone to qualify the boys for winning, so they are taking a 3,000-mile trip to visit the big fairs of the country, including the national dairy cattle congress at Waterloo, lowa; the national swine show in Des Moines, and the national dairy cattle show in Chicago, where they will study types of cattle to better fit them to down the Georgia boys.

Lakewood park has never been in such a state of readiness for the fair as it is now, and everything will be in place on Saturday. F. H. Munson will be in the party the near future is the statement of the commission.

That there will be no repetition of the severe coal shortage of last year appears certain from the production reports just issued. Coaproduced from June 5 to September 25 exceeds that produced during the same period of 1919 by more than 51,000,000 tons, and about equals the production for the past three years. ing situation in the south, but it would be a mistake to assume that it is the only one. I have been out of public office so long, and have been confining myself, as you have been confining myself, as you know, to the practice of my profession so exclusively, that I am not able to form a definite judgment either as to all of the causes which have led to the present condition of affairs, or to be able to offer any satisfactory judgment as to what the proper remedy may be, but you know, of course, that while I was in office I felt always that every reasonable assistance in the way of credit should be extended to the farmers during the crop moving and crop marketing season, to enable them to dispose of their crops in an orderly manner, so that they could have the fullest opportunity to receive ceasonable prices instead of being forced to sell under pressure and at unnecessary sacrifices.

I note what you say about the three years.

Much of the difficulty experiences in getting coal has been occasioned by the expenditures of the reserve supply during 1919 when consump-supply during 1919 when consumption exceeded production and approximately 40,000,000 tons of the reserve were used. During 1918 bituminous coal production exceeded consumption by 30,000,000 tons, which is the normal condition of affairs. The excessive consumption of 1919 resulted in the starting of the current year without sufficient stock on hand.

On September 10 all outstanding permits for the use of coal cars for transporting other materials such as steel and road building ma-made the following statement:

"Anyone can prepare a simple mixture at home, at very little cost, that will doen gray hair, and make it soft and glossy. To a half-pint of water add I ounce bay rum a small box of Barbo Compound and dounce glycerine. These ingredients can be bought at any drug store at very little cost. Apply to the hair twice a week until the desired shade is obtained. This will make a gray-haired person look twenty years younger. It is easy to use, does not color the most delicate scalp, is not sticky or greasy and does not rub off."—

"It is a fallacy for the south to continue to advocate free trade or tariff for revenue only," Mr. Broussard said. "If we are to maintain our commercial supremacy it is imperative that we as a nation adop the policy of imposing a tariff for the sake of protection at the same time deriving the advantages of revenues incidental to said tariff to operate our government."

"What we need to do," said Senator Ransdell, "is for the nation to adopt the principle of protection to home labor and industry as a definite national policy, a non-political, non-partisan, non-sectional question. Tariff is an economic question and it will be fatal to us to continue to treat it as a political question."

"There can be no defense," he said, "of a system of taxation which places substantially all of the products of the field and farm and ranch upon the free list, while compelling those engaged in these pursuits to buy their supplies in a taxed market."

Walter Parker, general manager of the New Orleans Association of Commerce, declared the purposes of the congress were more manifestly valuable now with the opportunities laid before the United States for Latin-American and Oriental trade.

South Awakening, Says Harding.

South Awakening, Says Harding.
Senator Warren G. Harding, republican candidate for president, in a letter read to the congress by President Kirby, expressed his congratulations over the fact that the "south is fast awakening from its long years of traditions and sectional feeling and destined to join the advanced spirit of progress." He said he believed the south now is alive to the needs of a non-discriminating protective tariff.

"Substitution of a broad national outlook for the sectional feeling that has to some extent isolated her people and hindered their participation in the march of economic progress," was recommended as the neessary viewpoint of "every forward looking southerner," by the senator.

"The south," said Senator Harding, "should hold fast to the best of its old civilization, manners and customs, but seeks also to unite with them the best afforded by the examples of peoples of all the sisterhood of states.

Community Singing.

Mrs. Thornton mentioned to the assembled presidents that they call attention to the importance of community singing, especially in the proposed observation of armistice day, celebrating the close of the world war. She mentioned that community singing was always modified in Atlanta by people not knowing the words of the national patriotic songs, and she read from a letter from Mrs. Samuel Inman, who is one of the promoters of community service in Georgia, that the same status prevailed in Georgia and that the effort was being made to stimulate interest in community singing before the forthcoming celebration of the great day.

Mrs. Albert Thornton, chairman of the nursing committee of the Atlanta chapter of the Red Cross, at the request of the presiding officer, made an appeal to the federated presidents to aid this year in the membership drive of the Red Cross, which drive begins November 11 and lasts a week. Mrs. Thornton explained that every cent collected in this membership drive goes to the public health service which the Red Cross is doing in Atlanta and not to any outside work of the Red Cross.

She stated that since the Red Cross has begun its nursing service the first of July over 3,900 visits had been made among the sick and afflicted in the city by the eight Red Cross nurses who compose the service staff.

Mrs. Inman on Registration.

Mrs. Thornton warmly indorsed the message brought to her by Mrs. Frank Inman bearing upon registration of women. Mrs. Thornton stated that it was necessary for women, now that the gift had come to them, to prepare themselves to be good, intelligent citizens, and that they at once respond to the request for their registration.

To those who would ask why should women register if they cannot, according to the laws of Georgia, vote in the forthcoming national election, the information was given that they could vote in all municipal and state elections which come six months after their registration, this statement being further explained by Mrs. Thornton's reading the statement from Mrs. McDougal's address to the Fulton county women in Sunday's Constitution.

The Best Cough Syrup is Home-made.

lere's an easy way to save $2, and yet have the best cough remedy you ever tried.

You've probably heard of this well-You've probably heard of this well-known plan of making cough syrup at home. But have you ever used it? Thousands of families, the world over, feel that they could hardly keep house without it. It's simple and cheap, but the way it takes hold of a cough will soon earn it a permanent place in your home.

Into a pint bottle, pour 2½ ounces of Pinex; then add plain granulated sugar syrup to fill up the pint. Or, if desired, use clarified molasses, honey, or corn syrup, instead of supar honey, or corn syrup, instead of sugar syrup. Either way, it tastes good, never spoils, and gives you a full pint of better cough remedy than you could buy ready-made for three times could buy ready-made for three times its cost.

It is really wonderful how quickly this home-made remedy conquers a cough-usually in 24 hours or less. It seems to penetrate through every air passage, loosens a dry, hoarse or tight cough, lifts the phlegm, heals the membranes, and gives almost immediate relief. Splendid for throat tickle, hoarseness, croup, bronchitis and bronchial asthma.

Pinex is a highly concentrated compound of genuine Norway pine extract, and has been used for generations for throat and chest ailments.

To avoid disappointment ask your druggist for "2½ ounces of Pinex" with directions, and don't accept anything else. Guaranteed to give absolute satisfaction or monfy refunded. The Pinex Co., Ft. Wayne, Ind.

At a called meeting yesterday afternoon of the presidents of the City Federation of Women's clubs at the home of the president, Mrs. Albert Thornton, Sr., action was taken on important civic matters, including the part women of the federation will take in the forthcoming Southeastern fair, in the membership drive of the Atlanta chapter of the Red Cross and in the present registration of women of citizenship.

Mrs. Thornton, who presided, introduced the new vice president of the city federation, Mrs. Wilmer Moore; the new corresponding secretary, Mrs. E. A. Peeples, and her assistant, Mrs. W. L. Shallenberger. She also reported to the meeting the fact that she had by invitation been present at a meeting of the management of the Southeastern fair, and was asked, as president of the federated clubs of Atlanta, to get the co-operation of club women in the interest of the fair patronage and its success. Mrs. Thornton urged upon all club presidents to pass the message on to their organizations, naming as leading features which the women might mention, the community pageant to be put on by the Atlanta branch of the Drama league and the inter-state fair school, which brings here boys from every county in every state in the Southeastern fair district, and the varied agricultural exhibits.

SALTS FOR KIDNEYS

Take a glass of Salts before breakfast if your Back hurts or Bladder bothers you.

The American men and women nust guard constantly against Kid-much and all our food is rich. Our blood is filled with uric acid which the kidneys strive to filter out, they weaken from overwork, become sluggish; the eliminative tissues clog and the result is kidney trouble, bladder weakness and a general decline in health.

When your kidneys feel like lumps of lead; your back hurts or the urine is cloudy, full of sediment or you are obliged to seek relief two or three times during the night; if you suffer with sick headache or dizzy, nervous spells, acid stomach, or you have rheumatism when the weather is bad, get from your pharmacist about four ounces of Jad Salts; take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast for a few days and your kidneys will then act fine. This famous salts is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and has been used for generations to flush and stimulate clogged kidneys; to neutralize the acids in the urine so it no longer is a source of irritation, thus ending bladder disorders.

Jad Salts is inexpensive; cannot injure, makes a delightful effervescent lithia-water beverage, and belongs in every home, because nobody can make a mistake by having a good kidney flushing any time.—(adv.)

Welcomed at the meeting was Mrs. Harry Hermance, representing in the absence of Mrs. Thornwell Jacobs, the woman's board of Oglethorpe university. Madam O. K. October 11.-The Cleveland, leveland Indians came within eaching distance of the baseball hampionship of championships reaching distance of the baseball championship of championships when they shut out the Brooklyn Nationals by a score of 1 to 0 here this afternoon in the sixth game of the world's series. Another victory in the contest tomorrow will complete the inter-league affray and permit the local club to fly two banners in the breeze next spring, an epoch-making event in the history of the Cleveland team. With the score four contest to two in favor of Tris Speaker's players, it is conceded by even the most loyal of the Brooklyn fans that nothing but a

Mails had decidedly the better of the contest, the batters from the east being held to three scattered hits, while the locals found Smith's tange for seven safeties.

The winning of the game can be traced to this additional edge in batting on the part of the Indians for the difference in the macing power of the two contenders this afternoon eventually spelled the difference between the solitary run of Cleveland and the string of ciphers which rewarded Brooklyn's efforts to connect with "Duster" Mails' wide sweeps and sharp break-at four Indians remained on the acks after the third out.

Although Cleveland had the bases and inning, it was not until the sixth session that the run which gave the home team the victory was pushed across. The making of the winning tally was neither startling nor unorthodox, but stood out like a lighthouse on a stormy night. After Evans flied out to Konetchy his only hitless appearance at the plate during the game, Wambsganss was sent to the bench, Olson to Konetchy.

Manager Speaker shot a single to right. With two down, the stage did not appear to be set for run-making with Smith slanting them over with plenty of speed and curve. George Burns proved to be the batter who was to deliver the blow that wrecked the Robinshopes of again tying up the series. He caught one of Smith's sweeps on the very tip of his bat and lifted the ball clear to the center field bleachers, the ball hitting the low rail and evading both the hands of Zack Wheat and those of several men and boys who tried to clutch it, being finally retrieved by Myers, far too late to prevent Speaker from scoring. Olson projected, claiming interference with the ball, but the umpires refused to consider the claim.

Great Crowd.

Wrought up to a fever pitch of anthusiasm by the sensational play of Sunday, this city and surrounding sections turned out another tremendous gathering of fans for today's game. After the last turnstile check had been made it was announced by the national computation that the paid admissions totaled 27,194, the largest in the series to date. The gate receipts amounted to $82,969, which will be this definition and the balance equally between the owners of the two contending clubs and the treasuries of the major leagues.

sixth inning, but at no time did it appear that it would be necessary to call the contest.

Notwithstanding the heat and humidity, there was no cessation of either enthusiasm or rooting. In fact, concerted efforts to help the Indians win were more conspicuous than in any of the preceding games. Apparently the entire congregation of spectators were determined that Cleveland should conquer their opponents if the vocal encouragement of the fans could throw the advantage toward the Speakerites. For the first time in the series there was evidence of attempts to rattle the opposing players. Rattles, autohorns and sustained yelling and tamping continued steadily during the play. Captain Wheat was liberally booed when he fanned, and then protested the strike-out in the second, innins, and Pitcher smith came in for similar disapproval in the fifth.

Neis had been walked to first and caught the runner several feet off the bag, despite his desperate effort to regain the bag. Pitcher Smith engineered a somewhat similar play in the eighth when he flashed the ball across the diamond to Konetchy and caught Evans off the base after the latter had gained the first station as the result of a clean single to center. Sunday, in the face of almost "miracle" ball playing, the gameness of the Dodgers in coming back and fighting the Indians to a 1 to P score Monday, was clearly demonstrated. Kilduff rolled one to Sewell, but the shorts top fumbled just long enough to lose his chance to get either Konetchy at second or Kilduff at first. Miller's grounder gave Gardner an easy chance for a play at any base, but he also fumbled, filling the bases for Smith. With two balls called, the Brooklyn pitcher caught a slow curve near the end of his bat for a short fly back of second. Speaker dashed in and caught if for the third out. Brooklyn never got a man to third after this inning. In the fourth, Myers singled after one was out and Konetchy walked, but Mails forced Kilduff to hit a short fly to Wood and Evans took Miller's long liner.

Neis walked in the sixth, but was caught off first with one out on a quick throw from O'Neill and in the eighth Olson drove a double to left with one out. He never passed second, however, for Sheehan popped out and Krueger, batting for Neis, forced Olson at third. Mails in Form, Mails pitched in form that would have won most any ball game. Two crashing hits in the sixth inning, hits which came after two were out, gave Cleveland a run, and one run-was enough, for the Indians have discovered the exceeding weakness of some spots in the Dodgers' line-up and had little difficulty in checking their attacks. Twice Brooklyn had real chances to score, opportunities when a single hit would have evened up the series, but it happened in each case hat the batter whose fate it was to face Duster Mails was not equal to the emergency of hitting against a left-hander with control. day afternoon within Ponce de Leon's classic enclosure.

A Good Record.

The record of Sewanee is a splendid one for the season. They have growled three times this season, and victory resulted in every instance. Their latest start was against Georgetown college, of Kentucky, and the bluegrass boys still have visions of the fleeting players of Sewanee flashing by. They opened up the season against the Bryson preps and rolled up an overwhelming count.

Advance dope says Sewanee is strong on bifense, and the old bucket has been spilled not a single time this season. Combating that strong offense of the Tennesseans, the Petrel coaches have labored long and hard on the defense of the Oglethorpe machine, and Sewanee won't be able to win without first crushing this barrier to the ground—not the easiest task on earth, by the way.

The backfield of the Petrels will hold its own against the Tigers, and unless the reports of a weak Sewanee line are erroneous, the local collegians will do a bit more than that. The Petrels are up against the real thing this time, and the boys realize it.

Too Much Confidence.

Studying the accounts of last Saturday's game, as they came ofti and the boys realize it.

Too Much Confidence.

Studying the accounts of last Saturday's game, as they came out of Chattanooga, had the Elcock warriors realized this against the University of Tennessee Saturday, there never would have been any knotted result. That game ended in a 14-14 tie, and the scribes of Chattanooga declare it was brought about by over-confidence. They make no effort to take any credit away from the 'Noogans, yet they admit that the Oglethorpe team was the stronger and that it would have won had it played the game it was capable of displaying.

Confidence is a great thing any time, but too much of it is dangerous, and the Petrels now sadly realize that fact. The local lads went on the field certain that Chattanooga would play nothing but defensive football and that the mountaineers had little offensive strength to hurl at the linesmen. They were outguessed, and when realization came it was too late, and the referee's whistle tolled the doom of the Petrels.

This time, there will be no such failing. Oglethorpe has been impressed with the idea that the Sewance Tigers can be deceated, but that only the hardest kind of plugging will turn the trick. With the arrival of Coach Elcock from New York, where he attended a business conference, the work this week will be based on eradicating the weaknesses that were spotted in the last game.

There isn't a great many of these spots on the Oglethorpe machine, but the few that do exist will be wiped out before Saturday, and the Petrels will enter the contest bousting their maximum strength.

It was announced last night by Assistant Coach Frank Anderson that the Tech-Vandy game would be called by quarters at Ponce de Leon Saturday afternoon.

Cleveland, October 11.—Sherrod Smith, one of the aces of the Brooklyn pitching staff, was unable to stop the Cleveland Indians at bat today and they gathered seven hits off his offerings and continued out in front in batting with an average for the six games of .247. Duster Mails fared better than his slab rival and by holding the Dodgers to three hits, pulled the National league champions down from a mark of .240 to 214.

Joe Evans was the leading batter of the day. He was up feur times and drove out three of the seven hits gathered by the Indians. On his other time up he swung viciously but the ball glanced off the bat and he popped to Konetchy. Burns managed to hit .500 for the day, being passed the first time up and retired on a fly to Olson the next time. On his last appearance at the plate he came through with the double which gave his club its fourth victory of the series.

The averages follow: The "Golden Tornado-Pittsburg Special" will be put on by the Louisville and Nashville for the third time in gridiron history, on Wednesday, October 20, leaving the Union station at 4:25 p. m. One sleper has been reserved for the Tigh team and as many of the rooters require will be supplied.

Semi-Vaudeville Show.

Then there are a number of scenes that make of the performance a semi-vaudeville show unrivaled in point of variety of amusement by any attraction seen here since Raymond Hitchcock's revue hit town. The dancing bell-boys, the xylophone artists, the illustrated vocal numbers and the weird contortionist turn supply the items of this department.

Many new faces are seen in the cast, but, to the gratification of the entire audience, familiar burnt-cork countenances from the dusky company, and these were hailed with delight by their legion of old friends and admirers in Atlanta.

The performance of last night departs in many and drastic instances from the regular run of minstrelsy, but there was just that vein of old-fashioned darkylsm in it that kept satisfied those who love the memory of Evans, Wilson, Primrose and a dozen others of days gone by and the type of show they loved to present. At he same time, the novelty of the acts and scenic effects, secured with the aid of rich, colorful settings and lighting, made up for the younger Inevitably, prohibition gets its

HARRIS GIVEN FINE ON PROHI VIOLATION

George Harris, of 29 Mayes street, was fined $10 and cost for being drunk and disorderly and was held under a $250 bond for trial in the state court, under charges of violating the state prohibition law by Judge Johnson in recorder's court Monday.

Harris was charged with having imbibed too freely of "white lightning" Sunday evening, and when passing along Ponders avenue in front of the Baptist church, he was suddenly "moved by the spirits" to join the assembly. This he did, to the astonishment and amazement of the congregation.

A telephone call brought officers to the scene and resulted in incarceration over-night for Harris.

CAREFUL HANDLING OF ASHES IS URGED BY THE FIRE CHIEF

A warning to Atlanta citizens was issued Monday by Fire Chief W. B. Cody about the danger of fires from the careless handling and disposition of ashes from grates and furnaces. Already one fire causing several thousand dollars damage has occurred this month, said the chief, and the origin was traced directly to ashes containing live coals which were dumped into a wooden barrel. Handling of ashes in this manner is in violation of the city ordinances, stated the chief. It is against the law to deposit ashes in any wooden or other inflammable container.

"Erminie and Sister" presented best musical number, and "Sister" rendered semi-classical and popular airs upon her violin so charmingly that it might be asked why her name is not also given upon the program. Erminie, as accompanist upon the plano, afforded a most pleasing surprise when compared with the usual vaudeville pianist. If applause is to be the criterion, Sam Adams and J. P. Kriffith, in "A Music Lesson," would undoubtedly head the critical list. Mr. Griffith, as a stupid and country music student, displayed a control of facial expression seldom witnessed upon any stage.

House of the Tolling Bell."

"The House of the Tolling Bell," in which May MacAvoy and Bruce Gordon are costars this week at the Tudor theater, is an interesting drama of love and mystery based upon superstition, that elusive something that can be found in nearly everybody's makeup. Its locale is laid in the 'old south where superstitution is rife among the nerroes and certain classes of whites. "The House of the Tolling Bell" will be found a smooth-rinning, quick-moving drama that weaves this superstitution into a story of pathos and human interest. The picture is adapted from the novel by Edith Sessions Tupper, which ran in The Illustrated Sunday Magazine. Most of the action is laid in Louisiana. Artistic views below the Mason and Dixon line and colonial mansions remind one of the land of honeysucke and jasmine. May MacAvoy is splendid in the role of a poor little southern girl and Bruce Gordon is a considerate and manly hero. Several striking characterizations by other members of the cast are most worthy of praise. All who are searching for something sway from the beaten path in motion pictures will find the "House of the Tolling Bell" worth while from every point of view.

Having arrived in Atlanta Monday morning on a special train of 43 cars, the Johnny J. Jones Exposition shows will be ready to entertain the public by noon today, it was announced last night. The big amusement enterprise will be completely established in Lakewood park during the morning and by nightfall everything is expected to be in full swing, to continue throughout the Southeastern fair, which begins next Saturday.

Despite the fact that but a few of the Jones shows had opened Monday night a fair crowd went to the grounds. The various riding devices were in operation, and a number of the side shows were ready for inspection.

The outside walls of many of the houses in Mexico are from three feet to six feet thick to withstand earthquake shocks.

The Jones people are stressing very much this year the fact that no games of chance will appear on the midway this year. Suppression of the sale of so-called "tick-lers" on the midway is also underconsideration by officials, who believe the alleged mirth-provokers are usually responsible for much disorder towards the closing nights of the fair.

"Law of the Yukon."

"Law of the Yuron."

A most extraordinary display of approval marked the first presentation of Charles Miller's very remarkable photodrama. "The Law of the Yukon," at the Strand theater. The audience voiced its pleasure in no uncertain manner. The combination of an internationally famous poem which is the basis for most of the main titles; a story that is full of very tense moments lightened by comedy that is not forced but true to life and highly entertaining, and a director who controls the action with a master hand, is bound to result in a photoplay of unusual merit and command the praise of the audience. "The Law of Yukon" deals with the early days of the great northwest, the establishment of its first daily paper, they go men and women who left civilization to wrest from nature its treasure or to prey on those who were successful. "The Blephant's Nightmare," a clever Fox Sunshine comedy, was also shown.

Stolen Goods Recovered.

Approximately $1,000 worth of stolen goods have been recovered by the county police following their arrest of Alonzo Black and Jim Laney, both colored. The negroes are both being held at Fulton county Tawer, charged with violating the state prohibition law, and receiving stolen goods. Upon the arrest of Black some time subsequent, more articles were recovered. It is alleged that both men had liquor in their possession.

Homes

Now is the time MADD for Building

With the renewed activity in the 1921 building season, material and labor will be scarcer and prices may be higher. The man who is wise enough to make the most of conditions will be quick to do his building now before winter weather makes building impossible. You can save money and get quick service by buying an Aladdin Readi-cut Home. Aladdin Homes are factory made—not cut by hand. They are high grade, strong, durable, handsome houses.

The Aladdin System scientifically prepares the materials and conserves the labor. You can save 18% on the cost of the lumber and 30% on the cost of the labor.

Certified records of thousands of Aladdin Home-builders in every state prove these statements. You can prove these statements for yourself, for there is an Aladdin Home near wherever you live.

Fourteen years success of the Aladdin System of construction have firmly established its many advantages. The lumber that's wasted costs just as much as the lumber that's used. The only possible way to reduce the present high prices of lumber and labor is to save the usual waste. The Aladdin System prepares all the lumber in our mills ready to be nailed in place. Waste of lumber is reduced to less than 2%. Cost of labor is reduced 30%. One man will do in six days, with Aladdin materials, what it requires ten days to accomplish without Aladdin's System. The book "Aladdin explains this completely and thoroughly.

The opening was steady at a decline of 35 points to an advance of 11 points, near months being relatively easy owing to the circulation of October notices, unfavorable goods trade advices and southern selling of December. Trade interests were buyers of later deliveries and, after some early irregularity, prices showed railies around midday on covering for over the holiday tomorrow.

October advanced to 22.84 and January to 20.67, or 22 to 44 points above Saturday's closing figures, but as soon as the demand from shorts tapered off, prices turned easier owing to continued though not particularly active southern selling. The persistency of the pressure from this source, despite reports of more general holding, seemed to discourage recent Wall street buyers, and offerings were heavier late in the afternoon, with October selling off to 21.60 and with active months generally showing net losses of 45 to 80 points. The closing railies were attributed to renewed covering. Both American markets will be closed tomorow, while Liverpool will remain open, eWather conditions in the south were considered generally very favorable for maturing late cotton and picking the earlier crop in good condition. Private cables reported hedge-selling in Liverpool absorbed by domestic and continental trade buying on a scale down.

PROFESSIONAL VIEWS

ON COTTON SITUATION

New York October 11.—(Special.)—Reports of holding are more general in southwest and marketing is being retarded by night riding threats in some eastern beit sections, which were without much effect, because of continued southern hedge selling which is supposed to show that cotton is still moving. October notices are estimated at 1,800 bales, which was partly retender cotton which was stopped last week. Considerable covering occurred early for over the holiday and the later market was without much support.

Farmers' Efforts for $3 Wheat Cause Decided Closes Strong-Provisions Follow Grain Rise.

Chicago, October 11.—Definite steps which farm organizations that taken to force the wheat market closed strong a bushel had a decidedly bullish effect today on prices. The market closed strong 7½ to 3½ c. net higher, with December $2.07½ to $8.08, and March $2.03½ c. organized ic to 1½ c. and oats ½ c. to ¾ c. In provisions the outcome varied from unchanged figures to 27c decline.

From the outset the attention of the majority of wheat traders appeared to focus chiefly on the tactics of producers. The fact that offerings were of much ligher volume than usual did a good deal to emphasize current talk that grain was being sold below cost, and to stimulate bullish sentiment. On the other hand, reports of strained to something of a reaction, and, so, too, did assertions of former Wheat Director Barnes that war prices on everything were becoming things of the past. Fresh advances, however, resulted from assertions that 60 per cent of United States wheat from an erroneous announcement of advance in the visible supply total. Corn and oats sympathized with wheat strength. Provisions were weak, owing to lower quotations on the chicker weak, owing to lower quotations.

COCA-COLA MAKES BAD

Coca-Cola broke badly on the New York exchange, dropping from $32 to $27%. The stock started dropping about 11 o'clock and went down rapidly. A later rally, however, brought it up to the closing mark of $29%.

Rumor has been current for some time regarding dissension among the officers of the company, but there is no official basis for this rumor. It is also thought that the decision in Delaware in the suit brought by the bottlers, which is expected within a few days, had something to do with the slump.

The recognization of the Co-

The reorganization of the Cc-ca-Cola company under the laws of the state of Delaware called for a capitalization of $10,000,000 preferred stock and 500,000, shares of common stock with no par value.

It is claimed the loss in shrinkage in Monday's low price amounts to more than $6,000,-000.

New York, October 11.—Coming Just before Columbus day the stock market was routine in character, and owing to the absence of many important traders who were extending their week-end trips over until Wednesday morning, attendance was light, and business dragged at times so that the market was without particular aim or drift. The industrial list was weak abut recovered somewhat at the close with some stocks showing net advances for the day and others slight declines.

The sentiment of Wall street as the sentiment of wall street as a wising purchases of stocks on any declines. It may or may not hadvisable to attach significance to these utterafaces, but thy may be taken as important to the extent that they signify a change in the stimosphere from the extreme pessions of a few weeks ago.

Governor Cox emphasized that between him and Senator Harding was now the clear-cut issue of "league" "A vote for the senatorial candidate means a vote against the league, while a vote for me means one for the league," the governor declared, denouncing the senator's position as "provincial, selfish, unholy, and in fact, un-Christian."

Governor Cox, championing the league, gave concisely what he said were the four great causes of war and the four league "curatives."

"If anything were needed to clarify the present situation with respect to the league of nations." said the governer, "it has been amply provided in the last few days. Senator Harding, in what would appear to be his ultimatum, compelled under the threat of Senators Borah and Johnson, says that he is against the league without or with reservations. NINE QUESTIONS SHOT

What Taft Didn't Say. "6. You say that Senator Harding has already voted twice for the reservations. "7. You say that Senator Harding promises that as president he will indorse the covenant without Article 10. To wnom has he given the promise? Certainly not to Senators Coughlin home, he found the baby Johnson and Borah. Every one had been smothered to death."

Johnson and Borah. Every one knows that he has not given it to the American people. Has he given it to you? If so, is it not so much in conflict with Senator Harding's recent statement that he proposes from now on to turn his back on the league—with or without reservations—that it joins both you and him together in deliberate deception?

'S. Assuming that the pledge has been given to you, then may we not answer it with your own words, spoken at a luncheon given by the civic organizations of California, in which you said:

In Georgia by Counties

Judge Taft and Senator Harding were dual objects of Governor Cox's fire today here and in illinois. In all four of the governor's speeches to crowds today at springfield. Litchfield and East St. Louis, Ill. and to his Coliseum crowd tonight. Governor Cox emphasized that be-tween him and Senator Harding was offered no alternative, but holds out the hope that a new association of nations may be formed.

"Now comes expresident Taft's statement in which he says that Senator Harding's suggestion is practicable, that the league is now functioning, has been in existence for eight months and that the rest of the world cannot be expected to undo a plan into which forty-one nations have entered.

"I have found it an easy matter to present the basic principles of the league. It is based upon the primary objective of preventing war. Reduced to few words, the plan is this: The causes of war in the past have been:

'First-The seizing of territory by

"Third-The immense national ar-

"Third—The immense national armament.

"Fourth—Power of monarchs or their diplomats to precipitate war over-night.

"The curative measures are these:
"First—Article 10 of the league is nothing except the eighth commandment. Thou shalt not steal.'
"Second—All treaties made between nations in the future must be filed as public documents with the league of nations.
"Third—A systematic process of disarmament is provided.
"Fourth—Differences between nations which in the past led to war are to be submitted to discussion and arbitration for a period of not less than nine months.
"The peoples of the world want protection against war. It cannot be given except by a concerted action on the part of the nations of the world. A method entered into now by forty-one nations has been devised. No one has proposed a substitute. Even Senator Harding admits that, in his talk of a new association of nations, he has not a single constructive idea as to now it is to be done."

New York, October 11.—The raw sugarmarket was unsettled today over the announcement of the moratorium in Cuba for fifty days. Various opinions were ventured on the subject among the trade, and while many thought it may have a steadying effect for the time being, operators in general were inclined to hold off and watch developments. There was a small sale of about 560 bags of Brazilian whites in port to a local refiner at 7.75, duty paid, but otherwise there was nothing offering.

IOHN EVINS IS GIVEN

News was received from Savannah last night that John G. Evins, formerly of Atlanta, will return to this city as the manager of the American Theaters corporation interests in this city, and that he will be succeeded in Savannah, where he was manager of the Odeon and the Folly theaters, by Captain Harry
M. Dodd, formerly sporting editor of The Morning News.

The amnouncement will be of much interest locally since Mr. Evlas is one of the most popular men in the state in the amusement field, one of the weterans in the moving picture business, and well known socially and in club life.

He was for a number of years manager and part owner of the Strand and Vaudette movie houses, selling them to Jake Wells, who, in turn, disposed of his interests to the S. A. Lynch enterprises. The American Theaters corporation is a newly formed organization, with milliops of dollars backing its activities in the picture field.

Jesse Williams Better.

Jesse R. Williams, of the firm of Kendrick & Williams, well-known Atlanta printers, who has been confined to his home for the last two months with an attack of muscular rheumatism, has recovered sufficiently to be able to be out again. Mr. Willaims will soon go to a health resort in Kentucky.

Combined councilmanic and citizen inquiry into charges of alleged profiteering by restaurants, wholesale and retall stores dealing in foodsfuffs, and fruit stands, will start this afternoon at 2:30 o'clock in the council chamber at city hall. The probe will be conducted by a committee composed of Councilman Al Martin, chairman; Councilman Al Martin the oath of office yesterday and will enter upon the new duties at once. This is an important step for the vocational guidance work of the public school system, inasmuch as it will receive the guidance and cooperation of the national government through the judior division of the employment service. The department at Washington, it is said, is planning to take an active part in the organization of the work.

Mrs. Anna Y. Reed, assistant to the director general, and who is in charge of the junior division of the United States employment service, is planning to come to Atlanta from Washington early in November. Mrs. Reed will be accompanied by Dr. Emery T. Filbey, professor of industrial education at the University of Chicago, who has a leave of absence from the university and who is temporarily associated with Mrs. Reed in the organization of the field work.

The new work headed by Mr. Williams is a movement to procure bet-ter contact between the schools and industry. He is a joint appointee of the board of education and the junior division of the employment service and has an office in the de-
